WHO AM I?

I was born on December 30, 1975, in Cypress, California. I was named Eldrick, which I dropped to become known by my nickname when I came to prominence as a sportsman, and raised as a Buddhist. My father, Earl, introduced me to golf before I turned two. I was quickly thrust into the spotlight when I putted against Bob Hope on The Mike Douglas Show in 1978 and appeared in Golf Digest at age five because of my talent. I turned professional in 1996 and have won 14 major championships, the second highest of any male player. I now rank among the most successful golfers and highest-paid athletes in the world. My form has recently taken a hit in the wake of revelations about my infidelities with more than a dozen women.

Keep Leaf

RRP from $8.95

Great for picnics and outdoor activities, Keep Leaf Reusable Baggies are a green alternative to plastic bags and wrap for keeping toddler snacks fresh. They have a 100 per cent cotton exterior, water-resistant nylon liner and a Velcro seal, and can be rinsed by hand or popped in the dishwasher. Stockist: bellesfamilles.com.au

UV-Alert Shade

RRP $14.99

A colour-changing pull-tab alerts you to high and low levels of UV so you can pull the shade down to protect bub from the sun. Also features a one-push release button and you can still roll down the window with the shade attached. Stockists: Big W and nursery stores. See cnpbrands.com.au, phone 1300 667 137.

Sleeptrainer Clock

RRP $49.99

Keep early risers in bed with MoMo the monkey from BabyZoo. Set the alarm and MoMo closes his eyes at bedtime and reopens them in the morning at whatever time you set. With optional jungle noises at wake-up time. Includes a 30-second night light, analogue and digital clock and volume control. Stockists: See moosebaby.com.au

Safe 'n' Snug

RRP $44.95 twin pack

Yes, they're super cute, but the new Safe 'n' Snug temperature-indicating body suits are much more than that. Thanks to colour-changing technology, the stripes and stars fade rapidly the moment your baby's body temperature exceeds 37-37.5C. Great for knowing when bub is overheated and for catching fevers early. Twin pack includes one body suit and one sleep suit. Stockists: See 4gl.com.au

WHAT'S NEW

STOKKE BOUNCER'SLEEP

RRP $549

No more picking up your baby when he falls asleep in the bouncer and trying to transfer him into a cot for a day sleep. Pick up the new Stokke Bouncer (RRP $299) when baby falls asleep and it fits neatly into the new Stokke Daybed (RRP $250). The bouncer has a 30-degree seating angle or reclines fully, either on its own or in the Daybed, perfect for the baby to sit up high and watch you work in your home office or kitchen. In stores now.
